Beverly - I wanted to take a moment to thank you for the chocolate fruit you brought in to our shop the other day. It's not too often that my clients think of us in that way. Your approach both with your customers and your suppliers is a unique one. You show genuine interest in both learning how to prepare print jobs, and following up to insure your clients are happy. In my mind, this is how a small business has the best chance to grow successfully. You can use me for a reference anytime. Thanks again and enjoy your day - Tracy
